Chapter-I

First Era Iran :- A foked villian?

We start off with a deal in 1901 where the British enterpriser had made a deal with the signing a contract with Shah of Iran known as the "D'Arcy concession". According to that concession the right to get all the extracted oil from Iran was to the British.

So, I want to make it easy for you. Let's understand this by the example of East India company, the used to collected the taxes by the Diwani granted by the Mughal emperor.

Here the Concession worked as the Diwani right and the Anglo-Iranian oil company had the right over all the oil extractions.

The Shah of Iran had taken major loans from the Europe and he had repay them back through the oil money. Even though a big oil feild was struck in 1908 the majority money went to do repay the loans in Europe.

The agreement lasted only for 60 years so it was ending in 1961 but the Iranian oil did not deplete till that time. We will talk about the role of British in the middle-east. But in another chapters afterwords.

Second Era

Under the leadership their Prime Minister Mohmood Mosaddegh, the finally went to International Court of justice henceforth, the prime minister asking a simple question "If Iran has so much oil then, why is iran so poor?"
He said that oil is Iran's natural resource and it should be only used for the development of the Iranian nation.
The ICJ should have taken a action but it said that it does not come under it jurisdication. The Iranian Parliment in 1951 nationalised the Iranian oil. This was to be the start of the development in Iran but the british intervened with America. Due to which CIA launched Operation AJAX which would discussed when we talk about America's role, but this overthrew the government and made a puppet government in Iran.
The Mohmood Mosaddegh went to jail when the black allegations were put on him so, the Shah of Iran came back.
This began the 3rd era of rule in Iran.
These were the key moments in the change of politics in Iran.

Third Era

The Shah of Iran was a close friend of America and henceforth bought the American and europe style of living in Iran.
He went to any gulf country like he was ambassador of U.S.A so he was representing U.S.A.
But King Faisal of UAE gave a warning to Shah of Iran that "You are Shah of Iran not of France are you are not in Élysée but in Iran, Your 90% population is Muslim, Please don't forget that." He just warned the Shah, the mordernization maybe accepted by you but not by your people. He was mordenizing iran at a very high speed. Here comes the 4th era in Iranian History.

Fourth Era

From where the Shah of Iran ruled from his own palace but Ayottalh Khomeni became the people's favourite.
He spent time with people and put foward a Iran with anti-west and morally pure. He said that Shah was anti-islamic and he was distrupting the identity and erasing the nation of Iran.

The Shah of Iran made a mistake in 1978 that Khomeni is a tratior in one of his newspapers. The people of Iran came down to streets and things went uncontrolle in 1979. So, he asked help for america but America had already lost to a small country like vietnam. So, they hesitated to take any further risks. And henceforth, the islamic revoultion took place.

In Feburary, 1979 the regime of Shah was over and when the people were asked which type of governme-nt should be made 98.2% said that Iran should be a islamic republic.

And then finally on 1st April 1979, Khomeini became the Supreme leader of Iran. Iran changed itself from monarchy to a theortic state. where religion was on top. He rewrote the whole constitution and bought in the guardian Council.

What power's that the guardian council have:-

- veto power to over pass any law by parliment.
- Supervision of elections.
- Approval or disqualification of candidates.

In 1989, Ayottlah Khomeini died but then came in Ali Khomeini, Under him Iran started the Nuclear Programme which was said to be Energy generation but western agencies always kept an eye on this country.

The Proxy network that Iran had created in order to fund the terrorist groups like Hezbollah, Gaza and many more made iran the state of funder to terrorist organizations. Under the rule of Ali Khomeini many protests took place such like in 1999, 2002, 2012, 2022, 2025, the protests in 2022 had a killing of 348 people out of which 50 were children. Under his rule protests were supressed brutally and no one to allowed for raising the voice. Then in 2025 and 2026, more than 7000 people died which was highest in morden history of Iran. This is till to date continuing in Iran.

Conclusion:

If we simply say the History of Iran is divided into 4 eras. These all had different leaders and idealogies. But same question "Is iran the real villian?" or they were internally trapped.
